

SEEN, HEARD
AND TOLD
BY THE EDITOR

We cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard.—Acts 4:10.

On the inside of this issue, beginning on Page 3, you will note that long-winded tale about precautions to be used by those who have boats on Grenada Lake. Our esteemed contemporary, Mr. Grimes, volunteered to lend us that type, already set up and that was a thoughtful thing indeed to do. It did not hurt him at all yet HELPED us a lot. No two newspapers, serving the same field, ever got along better than the GCW and the Star, although the Star has been under three ownerships whilst the GCW is still under the same one ownership.

The entire community owes Roy Doak a real vote of thanks for his long continuing interest in our 'silent city of the dead,' Odd Fellows Cemetery, as well as for a recent very concrete thing: the collection of the money for, and the building of that fence about the cemetery.

Remember, folks, the fence is a capital investment, but the maintenance of this cemetery or other property is a ceaseless, unending job and this job must be done by regular contributions, which, I am advised, have been very irregular for many years, hence the mess the property had gotten into.

YOU, who read this item, may be one of the many former Grenadians who have folks buried here. Have you contributed? Knowing how care Roy Doak is with money, you can rest assured that any money you send in will be properly and carefully spent either for additional permanent improvements, like driveways, or run-of-the-mill maintenance, both badly needed.

A generation ago, Mrs. Myrtle Boyd and Mrs. Robert Doak, were among the prime movers in the Ladies' Cemetery Association. Their children, Roy Doak and Mrs. Dorothy Taylor, seem to have 'inherited' their parents' jobs.

With this 'start,' let's all endeavor to help Roy Doak and Dot Taylor and Grenada itself in fixing up (and keeping up) Odd Fellows Cemetery so that again it can truly be called 'one of the prettiest cemeteries in North Mississippi.'

Throughout the years, it has repeatedly been suggested that Grenada's street force assume the duty of maintaining this cemetery, but nothing so far has come from that suggestion. That method of maintenance is again suggested here and now.

But, back to Grenada Lake. Boat owners and boat riders should, by all means read the article about boats on Grenada Lake. Get a number for your boat. Put it with proper safeguards. Drive it according to rules. Avoid a tragedy to yourself or to another boater or swimmer.

Millard Tilghman, in the other day to renew, said that one of their boys, who had been in the army about 9 years, would be home soon.

And here is a new subscriber, Mrs. Boyce Andrews in Stockton, Kansas.

Also Mrs. Rose Koxman, City, who never gets a dun or a blank. She just knows what the 3-54 means on her paper.

More than a quarter-million Southern Bell Telephones were added during last year, bringing the total phones served by the Southern Bell Co. to past the 44 million mark, according to Hugh Stanfill, Group Manager.

The blanks took effect on some folks; on others the blank had no effect. It 'took' on Lem Boone Sr., but had no noticeable effect on Ike Solar in New York, or, for that matter on O. L. Kimbrough, Jr. in New York.

It looks like business is picking up at The Plant and, if so, that's a fine sign for what some call the lagging economy, whatever that is.

The printed words gets around and I am reminded of that from a nice letter, commending something that appeared in the GCW, from Alec Bayless, a young lawyer in Seattle. I wrote him asking how the hell he got a hold of anything in the GCW. His reply was that Larry Noble, Jr., his cousin in New York, had sent the clipping to him in Seattle. That reminded me of something I had forgotten; that Larry had married one of Frank McLean's gals in Tampa, and that Mabel and I got a thorough briefing on the McLeans, gals and all, in the home of Campbell McLean in Tampa, one New Year's Eve.

The property consisted of three parts: the property on Margin Street, consisted of the antebellum Golladay (or Lake) home and the lot on which it stood also a large vacant lot on the corner of Margin and Commerce Street (now 51 Highway) this tract is 416 ft. by 298 ft.; a large tract of land, separated from the above by an alley, which contained 20 units of colored rental property; and a small lot containing 5875 square feet which was not directly connected with either of the other two tracts. The latter two tracts were bought by the late Harper Lake and, at his death, descended to his brother and sister, Mrs. Minnie Lake Barbee and Dr. Golladay Lake.

As death finished entering the family, the title to this property went in the name of Dr. Golladay Lake, 'the last of the Lakes.' Dr. Golladay Lake died July 1, 1933. He left no will. Most folks thought that the property would be in the hands of the courts for years, but the late Cowles Horton, who had charge of straightening the heirs out, got things straightened out so quickly that Chancery Court did not take long to determine the names of the twelve cousins who shared equally as distributees. Their names will be included later in this article. The property was in a terrible state of disrepair. The old home, neglected since the death of Mrs. Barbee in 1932, was in such bad shape that a public notice was posted on the door, warning the public to proceed at own risk, back last November when the private effects of the estate were sold at auction.

Most of the ensuing information, came from Miss Lida Owens and it relates to the Golladay family, the family from which 'the last of the Lakes' got his name. Isaac Golladay came to Lebanon, Tennessee from Pennsylvania in the late 1700s. He married a Miss Elizabeth Shall of French descent, there. They had three sons: Jacob Golladay who remained in Lebanon, Robert Golladay who moved to Coffeeville, Yalobusha County, Miss., and George Golladay who moved to Grenada (then Yalobusha County). Each of them was a lawyer, and each prominent and wealthy.

George Golladay married a Mrs. Martha Harper, a widow, and also a half sister of the late Curtis H. Guy. The Guy family owned most of the land south and west of the original town of Pittsboro (the quarter section bounded by Margin Street, Commerce Street, Line Street and the Yalobusha River). This Guy-owned land, of course, included the land on which the fine old mansion known as Lake or Golladay home was built in 1850. The Guy-owned land included, of course, the land now known as the Bledsoe land just west of Grenada. The architect and builder of the old Golladay home was John Moore. Much of the fine timber, including walnut, in the old home came off the Golladay lands west of Grenada. Among other fine homes built by Mr. Moore was the home now occupied by E. H. White, the Meek home Evergreen, the home on Troy Plantation, and his own home, the home on Margin now owned and occupied by Mrs. Sam Williamson.

Among the children of Mr. and Mrs. George Golladay were George who died suddenly in 1890, Sam, who moved to Lebanon, Tennessee, and Miss Davidella, who married George Lake in Grenada on December 27, 1866.

As an interesting sidelight, Mrs. George Golladay, who died suddenly December 25, 1864, was dressed for burial in the dress which had been prepared as the wedding dress of her daughter, Miss Davidella, who actually married Mr. George Lake on December 27, 1866.

LAKE ESTATE PROPERTY SOLD TO TOWNES
Biggest Residential Deal In Recent Years Closed

One of the largest sales of residential property held in Grenada in many years took place Friday, March 12, 1934, when the property known as the Lake Estate was sold at public auction by W. K. Huffington, Special Commissioner. The successful bidder was J. L. Townes of Grenada, who paid $32,500 cash for the entire property.

The property consisted of three parts: the property on Margin Street, consisted of the antebellum Golladay (or Lake) home and the lot on which it stood also a large vacant lot on the corner of Margin and Commerce Street (now 51 Highway) this tract is 416 ft. by 298 ft.; a large tract of land, separated from the above by an alley, which contained 20 units of colored rental property; and a small lot containing 5875 square feet which was not directly connected with either of the other two tracts.

Graysport Co-operative Gin
Declares Dividends

At Gore Springs, present site of the Graysport Co-operative Gin, there assembled Monday about 250 members, directors and customers of that gin, coming from Grenada, Calhoun, Webster, Yalobusha and Tallahatchie counties.

The dividend took the form of $2 refund on each of the approximately 4,000 bales of cotton ginned there in 1933. This gin, it will be remembered, was bodily moved from the old site at Graysport to its new site just west of Gore Springs, last fall. J. W. Willis is president of the gin association, while George Williams and Marvin Trussell are among the directors.

A Painsaking Job There

The program, initiated by Roy Doak, of putting a substantial fence around Odd Fellows Cemetery, will probably be completed before the end of this week.

Roy Doak has long been greatly interested in maintaining this cemetery and, aided primarily by Mrs. Waring Taylor, has been able throughout the years to collect only enough money from members of the

MRS. A. R. DOCKERY DIES
IN JACKSON

Had Been Bedridden For Many Years

Death claimed one of Grenada's beloved matrons, Mrs. Rosalie Olson Dockery, widow of A. R. Dockery, on Wednesday morning, March 12, 1934, in a nursing home in Jackson, Miss., after a long illness, resulting from a stroke sustained in her home several years ago.

Mrs. Dockery was educated in Grenada schools having graduated from Grenada High School and then from Grenada College.

She was the 3rd child of Mr. and Mrs. August Olson and Mrs. Charles Taylor Olson. She was until her death, active in the auxiliary work of the First Presbyterian Church, of which she was a member since childhood. She married Mr. A. R. Dockery in 1917. They did not have children, but loved their nephews and nieces, and were ever interested in young people.

Funeral services were conducted Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Garner Brothers Funeral Home with Rev. W. Taylor Clarke, Presbyterian minister officiating. Burial was in the family plot in Odd Fellows Cemetery.

Surviving are her brother, Lawrence Olson of Carrollton; sisters Mrs. W. T. Gibbs of Mission, Tex. and Mrs. T. D. Hall of Nashville, Tenn.; two nephews, Lawrence Olson Jr., a student at Harvard U. and Dr. W. T. Gibbs, Jr. of Mission, Texas. Nieces are Mrs. Dorothy Hall Rigle of Nashville and Mrs. Charlotte Gibbs Pyle of Mission, Texas.

All members of the family were able to come except Mrs. Hall and daughter. Mrs. Rigle, illness prevented their attending the funeral.

4-H Angus Project Winners
Announced

Robert and Billy Meredith tie for first and second place in the 4-H Angus project. Bobby Abel was 3rd place winner.

In September 1931, Guy and J. D. Branscome bought 20 Angus heifers from Dixie Stock Farm in Lancaster, Ky. and sold them to 4-H Club members in Grenada County at cost. Grenada Bank loaned the boys the money to buy the cattle with a low rate of interest and business men co-signed the notes with the 20 boys.

This year Grenada Angus Farm, Dixie Stock Farm and Grenada Chamber of Commerce are awarding the following prizes to the winners in this project:

- 1st - 1 registered Angus Heifer;
- 2nd - $100.00 in cash, and
- 3rd - $50.00 in cash.

The winners were selected on their feeding program, pasture program, amount of home grown feed fed, records and interest in the project.

The judges were Robert Wilson, Ass't Co. Agent, Montgomery Co., & Ben Clark, Ass't Co. Agt., Leflore Co.

Robert and Billy Meredith are brothers and work with their 4-H club project together. Therefore it would be impossible to select one boy's project over the other. Robert, Billy & Bobby all have good projects. They have good summer pastures with plenty of home grown feed or winter grazing for winter months.

der Robert D. McLean, bought his home in Grenada on April 13, 1846 and that his heirs eventually sold the lot to Grenada County for its then new court house. Robert D. McLean was one of the sons of the old dude in Kentucky. The other son, I understand settled in Amite County, Miss.

George McLean of the same family is editor of the Tupelo (Miss.) Journal.

ELLOWS ALMOST FINISHED
A Painsaking Job There

The fence around the cemetery, put so far that in desperation Roy Doak set out a letter to a few of the many folks who have families buried there asking contributions to build a fence around the place and promising that none of the dollars would be wasted and that a full accounting of the money would be made.

Roy did not get quite enough money to complete the job but he got enough almost to complete the fence. For the past ten days he has been as busy as if he was the contractor, working against time, for the day. He has been going out into the country every day and setting 'country' hands, getting a full day's work from each and heading them back home after a full day's working. He has been doing and in the morning helping drag off vines, trees and other debris that had piled up and created the danger of fire in the cemetery.

Steady rain has been at hand for several days and the ground is very muddy. Roy says that he is not sure if the men who had been working on the job of maintaining the cemetery, and had employed one woman to keep up the cemetery.

Roy's hope is that some man kinder than himself can be persuaded to take over his job as caretaker, superintendent of Odd Fellows Cemetery. He took on in memory of his mother.

Mrs. Robert Doak and other ladies of that era who did the job so well that Odd Fellows Cemetery was THEN known as one of the prettiest cemeteries in North Mississippi.

If there are other contributions received and a lot more SHOULD come in such money will be used to improve the driveway and for regular maintenance.

To date the following have sent in contributions of varying amounts:

Town Talk
BY FED ROBINSON

In the course of human experience we learn of the power of silence. In story books, and movies, if the hero will only keep quiet when he is falsely accused he gathers unto himself more of our respect and admiration than should he attempt to explain his innocence. In that moment when he might babble out a long explanation he doesn't do it, but he just controls himself in silence while injustice surrounds him and that always makes the high moment in the story or picture. We have a very old precedent for keeping silent when we are unjustly blamed for something we did not do. Read Mark 15:3 'And the chief priests accused him of many things but he answered nothing.' Even today a person is not compelled to answer questions as is witnessed in the Congressional Committee hearings of Joe McCarthy. However, we think there are times and occasions when we are expected to answer questions and accusations. If a person is NOT a communist, why would he mind saying so. But we were thinking of times when silence is golden and if falsely accused, just simply ignore it. Keep silent. Why try to explain to anyone your innocence? You are not guilty you know until the other side proves it. Keep silent. That's your best defense. Don't argue the matter as discussing it lends importance to it. Just keep silent, for there is great power in silence. Also there is great power in single words, little words spoken at the right time. We related a story some weeks ago in this column about a young ministerial student thumbing a ride and because the motorist heard the young man say PLEASE he stopped and picked him up and later paid all his expenses through many schools just because the little word please impressed the rich motorist. Well, now we have another little story about what happened when a little boy said 'IF I Grow Up'. Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, popular comedians were talking to a little boy eight years old and inquired what he wanted to do when he grew up and became a man. The little boy said 'IF I grow up I would like to be a comedian like you guys and make people laugh'. Martin and Lewis wanted to know what he meant IF he grew up, most boys would say what they wanted to do WHEN they grow up. So they were told the little boy was a victim of the dreaded muscular disease, dystrophy and from that very day these famous showmen have been contributing much of their time and talent to raising funds for the dystrophy campaign.

In answer to a historic question in school the little girl wrote: 'The Armistice was signed on November 11, 1918, and since then we have had two minutes of peace every year.' Well, she wasn't far wrong because since the beginning of recorded history, the world has spent only 8 percent of its time at peace. During the past 3500 years, only 288 have been warless. During all this time more than 8,000 'peace' treaties have been broken. On April 26 at Geneva, Switzerland, top ranking diplomats from all the great powers in the world will meet to try to arrange a full and complete peace for our world and millions of people around the earth will pray that the communists will say yes to the pleas of all humanity and permit a real peace to come again for us all.

We cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard. Acts 4:20

The former 3-star law visited with us a little while Monday morning. He was fidgeting on going to fishing.

Ray Bass, up here last week to carry his little boy Ivan back home for a short visit, dropped in and paid his dues to the GCW and reported everything OK on the big Bass menage in and near Lumberton.

Mrs. Edna Campbell got her children (the Stones) GCW in pretty good shape Monday by paying into the treasury the necessary $3.00. The Stones get the GCW in New Orleans.

August used to be called the damndest month in the year, but February and March have become as bad as August.

Back 10 years ago, I note an editorial '33 Years In The Automobile Business' in the GCW of that date. It was about old Joe Neely, still in that business.

I used to write and publish long-winded editorials EVERY week.

C. H. (Radio) Wells is a brand new subscriber and is to get the GCW every week in his new home in Eldorado, Arkansas. Henry Ray and I will miss Wells when fishing opens up at Enid.

I understand Brother Ellett Lawrence is visiting around in South Mississippi this week with his salesman in that area.

Charlie Penn in Blythesville, Ark. got a blank paper recently but it did not 'take', it appears.

From what I hear, Grenada County will not have to draft a single officer in the next election. There is a lotta talk about a heap of them running.

Ben Hoffman of Manchester, N. H. has joined his brother, Archie Hoffman, in the big junk business that Archie runs.

BASED ON THREE YEAR AVERAGE, GRENADA LAKE DROWNINGS TO TOTAL AT LEAST 3 THIS YEAR

Army Lists Rules And Regulations Governing Use Of Grenada Reservoir

VICKSBURG, MISS., March 15, 1954 — If statistics are any judge, Grenada can look for three drownings this year in the new lake at Grenada Dam. Based on a three-year average, the expectancy in total fatalities connected with reservoirs such as the recently completed Grenada Reservoir will be three. That is just an average. The actual total could be even greater. But these drownings need not be a reality. They can remain a figurative average, if the personnel utilizing the reservoir remain wide-awake on the subject of water safety. In order to stir the citizens to action on the subject of water safety, right at the beginning and before any great avalanche of home folks and visitors begin to go out on the lake, the Vicksburg District Corps of Engineers, wants to get in a plug for greater safety around the water of Grenada Reservoir.

Army Regulations

Listed below are the rules and regulations as issued by the Secretary of the Army governing the use of Grenada Reservoir. They are designed for the protection of the public and do not hinder the use or enjoyment of the lake. Take heed of these regulations, regardless of how you might dislike any regimentation of your fishing, boating or swimming. These rules will never regiment you, if you think them through. They are common, ordinary horse sense put into a set of regulations. Obey them to the letter and see that others do also, even if you have to be a one-man police force to do it. Otherwise, the newspapers will be forced to come out with mourning black headlines: "First Drowning at Grenada Lake!" The cause, even though it might not come out in the inquest, might very well be carelessness or even negligence, if you do not adhere to the regulations.

Now Is The Time

Now is the time to think of water safety—not after some limp body is brought ashore. Be water-safety conscious, beginning right now! Now here are the regulations concerning the use of boats on a reservoir. Don't let the Grim Reaper catch you disregarding any single one of them!

"Unsafe boats will not be permitted on the reservoir, and all boats permitted on the reservoir shall be equipped for safe operation and operated in a safe manner in accordance with instructions issued by the District Engineer.

Boat Permits

Please note that these regulations require that any boat put on the reservoir for a period of more than three days must have a boat permit. These permits are free of charge and may be obtained from the Grenada Reservoir Manager, Mr. Marion Knight, whose office is at Grenada Dam. Mr. Knight will issue a boat permit and at the same time give the boat owner a small metal number plate. The number plate must be attached securely to the boat where it can be easily seen. The number plate is for identification and having one of these plates should please the boat owner for the number plate stamps the boat as his own with no chances for any error in ownership to crop up. It also reduces the chances for boat pilfering, so it is to the advantage of the boat owner to get his boat registered and numbered, if he plans to leave the boat at Grenada Lake for any period of time.

Boat Classification

Boats operated on the reservoir fall within four classifications: (1) manually operated boats (rowboats, canoes, etc.), (2) any outboard motor boat, (3) any in-board motor or saildriven craft less than 26 feet in length, and (4) any in-board motor or saildriven craft more than 26 feet in length.

Equipment

1. Manually operated boats shall be equipped with one Coast Guard approved type life preserver, ring buoy or buoyant cushion for each occupant and at least one bailing bucket.

2. Outboard motor boats shall be equipped with one Coast Guard approved type life preserver, ring buoy, or buoyant cushion for each occupant, at least one oar or paddle, at least one bailing bucket or water pump, and with one light (any type) which is visible for 1/2 mile.

3. Inboard motor and sail craft less than 26 feet in length shall carry navigation lights consisting of one combination light to fore part of boat showing red to port and green to starboard from right ahead to two points abaft of the beam and one bright white light aft showing all around the horizon. Visible at least one mile. One hand or power operated whistle or other sound producing device audible at least one mile. A flame arrester on each carburetor off all gasoline engines. All launches and motor boats having gasoline power plants located in cabin or compartments shall be equipped for ventilating engine spaces and bilges prior to starting engines. For Diesel power plants, natural draft ventilation and permanently open inlet and outlet ducts extending to the bilges shall be provided. Inlet and exhaust ducts shall be equipped with suitable cowls or exhaust heads. One life preserver, ring buoy or buoyant cushion shall be available for each occupant at all times. A water pump and bailing bucket shall be carried aboard boat. One fire extinguisher for burning gasoline shall be available at all times.

4. Inboard motor and sail craft, 26 feet or more in length, shall carry navigation lights, one on port side properly screened to show green from right ahead to two points abaft the beam and one bright white light aft to show all around the horizon. Visible for at least one mile. One hand or power operated whistle or other sound producing device audible at least one mile. One bell which produces a clear bell-like tone. One flame arrester on each carburetor of all gasoline engines. All launches and motor boats having gasoline power plants located in cabins or compartments shall be equipped for ventilating engine spaces and bilges prior to starting engines. For Diesel power plants, natural draft ventilation and permanently open inlet and outlet ducts shall be provided. Inlet and exhaust ducts shall be equipped with suitable cowls or exhaust heads. Two fire extinguishers suitable for extinguishing burning gasoline. One life preserver or ring buoy (Coast Guard approved) for each occupant. Water pump and bailing bucket.

The operation and equipment of all motor boats must be in accordance with Federal Motor Boat Laws. Copies of these laws may be obtained from Coast Guard Headquarters located at Memphis, Tennessee.

Carrying Capacity

The safe carrying capacity of all boats shall not be exceeded at any time. Ordinary ly, in well designed boats by a reputable manufacturer, a safe carrying capacity is considered to be the number of persons that can be comfortably seated using a minimum of eighteen inches for seating space per person, with due allowance for equipment carried, in addition to the person.

The carrying capacity of a boat may be computed by using the outside length, the outside width and the minimum inside depth. The product of these three dimensions multiplied by 0.6 (six tenths) is deemed the capacity of the boat in cubic feet. To determine the number of persons the boat can carry, divide the above result by 8.

REGARDLESS of the carrying capacity, NEVER allow more persons in your boat than can be seated, as outlined above, and ALWAYS

Sportsman's Column (By C. C. Hamby, Sr.)

Attention all fishermen and those that are not fishermen: Fishermen are having their fun with all types of fish and most anywhere you go you should catch some fish. Better enjoy those $3.25 licenses, on or after the first of July the same licenses will cost you $5.25.

The hottest spot seems to be Sardis Reservoir around Hurricane Creek Landing. Crappie, slabs and saddle blanket sizes are being caught by the limit and I mean from 1 1/2 lbs. to 2 1/2 lbs. sizes I know because I have caught several limits and seen others that caught the limit of this size. Sam Irby and I caught 2 to 3 limits, that is the 2 of us caught 40 that weighed around 35 pounds, this is some average, but it is true. We caught them on Red Fins and Gold Fish, and I have both kind. Bass are also being caught in this same place by artificial bait, Bayou Bugle and Hawaiian Wiegler. I have these to sell. If you have ever been to this place and did not catch fish, it's your fault. If you have never been to this spot, ask one of us Hambys to go with you. One of us will be too glad to go and show you where we are catching those fish and how. We are open for dates, act as guides, and etc. for parties that have not been up there.

Enid Dam is paying off on Blue Gill Bream, using large fat juicy Hamby's red wugger worms. The Kentucky small mouth (yeeling bass) are really taking Gold Fish and Red fin minnows. Few are being caught on Enid Special artificial baits. I have these, too.

All lakes in the Delta are in fine shape. Bream, bass and crappie are being caught all the way over to Greenville, Lake Ferguson, Lake Lee, Lake Washington and Lake Jackson. Cat fishermen are having a little luck. Few are being caught on large Gold Fish.

Any information you desire, come by or phone 700 for latest dope.

20th Century Club Enjoys Trip To Oxford

One of the most enjoyable club programs of the year was on Tuesday afternoon when members of the Twentieth Century Club and invited guests motored to Oxford to visit 'The Mary Bule Museum' and interesting places on the University campus.

The Mary Bule Museum, located on University Ave. in Oxford, was a gift of Mary Skipwith Bule to the City of Oxford in 1939. The purpose of this gift was to provide a permanent place for many objects of artistic or historical value belonging to the Skipwith family, originally from Williamsburg, Va., and to establish in Oxford a center for the preservation of local historical material and for the study and appreciation of art.

The museum is open to visitors at the following hours: Tuesday thru Friday, 10 to 12 a. m.; 2 to 5 p. m. Sat. and Sunday, 2 to 5 p. m.

Many beautiful original paintings, including a self portrait by Mrs. Bule, two Dutch scenes owned by Cornelia Skipwith Greene the daughter of General Nathaniel Greene, and many other lovely paintings. The gracious Mrs. Bule also presented many copies of famous paintings, including several of the favorites, 'The Song of the Lark' by Jules Breton; 'The Age of Innocence' by Sir Joshua Reynolds and 'November in Normandy' by Fritz Thaulov. Interesting pieces of marble sculpture including a bronze group, cameo jewelry sets, rose point lace, fans, tea sets, small pieces of jewelry and objects owned by the family, relics of the American Revolution including manuscript letters, some written by Gen. George Washington, John Hancock and others. Cases were filled with antique dolls in period dresses, and every case beautifully arranged, held ones interest and admiration. We saw Faulkner's awards, the Nobel Medal Prize and citation from Republic of France.

The museum is of brick and marble. Luxurious shrubs surround the building and lend beauty through the crystal clear windows.

Mrs. Herron Rowland is director, and she personally welcomed each guest, and invited all to return. The second stop on the program was at the magnificent University Library, built in 1948 to 1951. Here the guests were greeted by Miss Halie Eggleston, circulation director of the library. She was introduced to the group by her close friend, Mrs. Andrew Carothers. In the interesting Mississippi Room of the library, Mrs. Thompson, the former Miss Kimble of Grenada, greeted us, and in a most charming talk, reviewed for us many of the book titles - dates of books written by Mississippi authors, the wide range of interesting subjects, and the delightful poetry written by Mississippians.

After the visit to some of the rooms of the library, where we were accompanied by Norrell Noble as guide, son of Mrs. L. E. Noble, who served as chairman of arrangements for this trip, we went to the Graduate School where we saw Dr. Robinson's Archeological collection, one of the finest in America. Miss Ray was our hostess there.

After the visit in the Graduate Building the group went to the Alumni Building where Dutch refreshments were enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Trotter and Mrs. Louise Montgomery of the University joined the club members at the close of the program to say hello to their friends. About 35 ladies from Grenada attended.

On the arrangement committee with Mrs. Noble were Mesdames Robert Sharp, W. W. Whitaker and A. T. Nadeau.

Her appearance is sponsored by Sigma Alpha Iota, honorary music fraternity, to sustain their scholarship fund.

'Pat' is the daughter of Mrs. John Sage of Grenada, and the late Mr. Sage, formerly of Bruce, Miss.

BROWNIES VISIT LIBRARY

As part of their study of community life, the Brownie Troop No. 2 under the leadership of Miss Mary Ross, Mrs. Hugh Stanfill, Jr. and Mrs. W. M. Gray, made a tour of Grenada County Library on Friday afternoon last. They were greeted by the Librarian who conducted the tour explaining the arrangement of the books, the card catalog, and the process of preparing books for circulation. They visited behind the scenes in the workroom and saw Miss Faye Griffith mend and bind books, shel-lac and mark them for the shelves. Mrs. Burkley showed them the circulation desk. At the close of the visit, Miss Jones presented the President, Linda Stanfill, an attractively decorated booklet for the Scout room. The children seem to enjoy their visit and it was a pleasure to have them with us.

The Troup has 22 members, they are: Linda Stanfill, Jean Sweetland, Lagatha Gray, Judy Townes, Jo Oliver, Marcia Hoffman, Lennie Bugham, Bobbie Kay Jackson, Lucy C. Burt, Andrea Whitaker, Valarie Williamson, Sandra Bates, Marjorie Walker, Janice Mitchell, Sherry Thomas, Jeannette Tribble, Caroline Brewer, Freda Fae Tindall, Margaret Pierce, Linda Switzer, Jean Tutor, Jane Rutledge. After this tour they went to the soda fountain for refreshments, just like the big girls.

FROM THE C. OF C. -

In a bulletin sent the North Miss. Resort Association by the National Resort Association it was stated that in West Virginia the number of vacation parties increased from 664,000 in 1946 to 2,353,300 in 1953 and that the expenditures increased from $44,276,000 to $212,776,836.

Interesting to all will be the breakdown of how that amount was spent: 25 percent went for purchases in retail stores, 22 percent for food, 17 percent for lodging, 12 percent for auto expense including gasoline, 9 percent for amusements and theatres, 7 percent for other forms of transportation, 5 percent for confectioners and roadside stands and 3 percent for incidentals.

These statistics verify the statement of Mr. Johnson, President of the NRA. 'The merchant will get the greatest percent of the tourist dollar, so he should be anxious to invest in the development of the Grenada Lake.'

Howard Cheek Selected at Millsaps

Howard Cheek, of Grenada, has been selected as one of the new members of the Millsaps College chapters of Omicron Delta Kappa, men's leadership honorary and Theta Nu Sigma, science honorary. Cheek was formally recognized last week at Tap Day, annual all-college convocation at which honor societies invite outstanding students to join.

SEEN, HEARD & TOLD BY THE EDITOR

Quality beef cattle as pictured here on this good Mississippi pasture at work turning clover and grass into beef for the boss to sell is becoming more important as our farmers realize that pastures are a cash crop which can only be sold through livestock. The smart farmer, even in the corn belt, finds that the cheapest or most profitable way of making beef is to let the cows harvest most of the feed which goes into them. This means lots of grass and use of stalk fields in the fall. In the feed lot country, the most successful farmers put on 50 percent of gains from roughage 60 percent of this is done with pastures. It cost four times as much to feed a cow at the feed bunk as it does on pasture. Feed, whether you grow it or buy it makes more money.

According to the USDA's Experiment station, Huntley, Montana an acre of pasture furnished 250 days of grazing, and produced 100 pounds of actual feed. What is called Total Digestible Nutrients, for twenty nine cents. But with corn 90 bushels per acre, that 100 pounds of feed cost $12.50 a dollar more than a feed lot. You have to make a mistake pasture for feed. It costs more to feed a cow at the feed bunk as it does on pasture. Feed, whether you grow it or buy it makes more money.

Dr. James A. Applewhite Visits Millsaps College

New Commandment

Lesson for March 21, 1954

A MAN who could keep all the Ten Commandments without ever breaking a single one would be a good man, better than most. But from the Christian standpoint that kind of goodness is not enough. A man can keep all the rules of the game and be a poor player. He can observe all the laws of his state and not be a desirable citizen. Something more, something more positive, is needed, valuable though the Ten Commandments are. At the Last Supper Jesus gave his friends there, and through them he gave all his friends since, an eleventh commandment which Christians understand to be more important than all the others. In fact, we have New Testament authority for believing not only that if a man kept all the others and broke the Eleventh, he would be a moral zero, but also that if he really keeps the Eleventh, it will lead to his keeping all the rest. It is what Christ called the "New Commandment"—of Love.

Dr. Foreman

What's New About Love?

Was Jesus exaggerating when he spoke of love as a "new" commandment? Had love never been heard of before? Is it not found in those two ancient Laws Christ himself had quoted from Deut. 6:5 and Leviticus 19:18—Love God, and Love your neighbor? Well, love itself was not then new in the world. But love to the degree that Jesus meant, was indeed new. The careful reader will notice that Jesus does not stop with "Love one another." He goes on to add, "—as I have loved you." Granted that even sacrificial love had been seen in the world before, the fact is that for these disciples in the Upper Room, and for most of us if the truth be known, the kind of self-giving love which Christ had and was in truth something new. We are all willing to love those that love us. We will love those who understand and appreciate us. We are willing enough to love if we feel we are getting some return, so to speak, on our investment. But which of us in Jesus' place would have loved others as he did? Those disciples were not at first what you would call lovable people. Sinners are not lovable as a rule, and Jesus came to help sinners. The thing that always bothered the Pharisees was that Jesus evidently loved people who did not deserve to be loved. No Pharisee ever understood this. It was something new in their world.

Love Is Not a Blueprint

Christians sometimes become too enthusiastic about this New Commandment. They speak of it as if it did away with the Ten Commandments, or as if it got rid of any need for thinking. If your intentions are good, that's good enough, they say. So they go through life with what they vaguely suppose are good intentions but actually doing a lot of harm. Jesus never meant this New Commandment as a sort of magic charm that would solve all our problems, get rid of all our difficulties, conquer all our temptations. Love is not a blueprint, either. You cannot take "love and love alone" and govern a city or found a college or run a business or a farm, just on pure love. It is something like the law of gravitation. You can't build so much as a pigsty without paying good attention to the law of gravitation. But that law does not tell you how to build the sty, nor a house, nor a skyscraper, though all of them are held together with gravitation's mighty power. So with all human institutions, the church, the state, the school, and so on: without the spirit of self-sacrifice (the New Commandment) they will not stand; yet self-sacrifice is no blueprint by itself. There is no substitute for hard thinking and planning.

Love Is Concern

If self-sacrifice sounds too lofty, let us come down the scale a little. New-Commandment love, to say the least of it, means concern for others. We all know what it is to be concerned about ourselves. We take good care of ourselves, we look for our interests, we worry for fear we may be left by the wayside somehow. We like to see that we ourselves get the most out of anything. All persons except complete fools are concerned naturally about themselves. Now, the New Commandment simply says to turn this concern in the other direction. Be as interested in the other person's welfare as you are in your own.

when life or property is actually in danger and outside help must be obtained. Whoever receives such a distress signal should acknowledge it in any practicable manner, preferably by two calls of similar character, as received, and repeated at intervals.

Restricted Areas

Boats may not be operated in the immediate vicinity of the dam or within 100 yards of the intake structure or any swimming area.

Warning

Watch for floating logs at all times. Do not use speed in shoal waters where submerged logs or stumps may be present.

Self Preservation

There is little excuse for losing one's life in a water tragedy. A few simple precautions could have prevented almost any tragedy on record. Overpowered boats, reckless disregard of others, failure to carry a life preserver, swimming beyond one's depth and distance, showmanship, overconfidence, all have contributed to a former tragedy. A lot of little simple things can save a life. Life preservers are not for the weak. Many cases have occurred when an occupant of a boat was thrown into the water and stunned. Even a momentary loss of reason is often fatal. Tie your preserver or boat cushion to your person with a length of cord. Your buddy can then help if you can't help yourself, for then you can't let go of the preserver, even though you sink momentarily.

Secure Advice

If you plan to be your own motorboat operator, get in touch with your Coast Guard Board Officials, and the Outboard Motor Boat Association through your local dealer. Secure their skilled advice which is a result of many years of experience.

If you are to be responsible for a group, consult your local Red Cross representative on water safety.

If you are interested in enjoying life and taking advantage of the recreation to be found on these lakes, please don't be foolish and end it all.

The same fellow who said the way to beat the depression was to put your trust in God, your car in the garage, and your folks in the field has some new corn which will have from 7 to 8 ears on each stalk. From each ear will come a pumpkin vine and this vine will spread all around the field. The beautiful part of the scheme is that each pumpkin will contain a peck of shelled corn. If that is a lie, it aint my lie. It is Crist-field's lie.

It must be said the things which we have seen and heard. Acts 4:20

Army Rules And Regulations

take into consideration the "extras" such as tackle, fuel, supplies, etc., which would affect the stability of the boat and its freeboard. All this can be very important in an emergency, or in rough weather.

Under certain conditions, the wind has a sweep of several miles over the lake, and sudden wind storms frequently will cause the water to become rough and waves to reach a height of several feet. For this reason, particular emphasis should be placed on the foregoing life saving and safety requirements, and on the manner in which all boats are operated.

Pilot Rules

Pilot rules approved by the Secretary of Commerce for the rivers whose waters flow into the Gulf of Mexico, their tributaries and the Red River of the North are applicable to Grenada and the other reservoirs. The most pertinent of these rules are briefly as follows:

When boats are approaching head-on or nearly so, it shall be the duty of each to turn to the right and pass on the port, or left side of the other.

When power boats are so approaching, it shall be the duty of each to give, as a signal of her intention, one short and distant whistle blast, which the other shall answer promptly by a similar blast, and thereupon each boat shall pass on the port, or left side, of the other.

If the courses of the approaching boat are so far to the starboard, or right side, of each other, as not to be in danger of collision, either craft shall immediately give two short and distinct blasts of her whistle, and they shall pass on the starboard, or right side, of each other.

A boat overtaking any other boat shall keep out of the way of the overtaken boat, passing to the left of it, if that side is in the clear.

When boats are approaching each other at right angles or obliquely so as to involve risk of collision (not when one craft is overtaking another) the craft which has the other on her own port (left) side shall hold her course and speed; and the other craft which has the other on her starboard (right) side shall keep out of the way of the other by directing her course to starboard (right) so as to cross the stern of the other craft, or, if necessary to do so, slacken her speed, or stop, or reverse.

Power Boats

Power boats, when moving under power, shall keep clear rowboats with occupants, approaching not closer than 50 feet.

Sail boats shall have the right of way at all times due to the inability of the sail boat to change its course rapidly enough as against the ease and speed with which a power boat changes its course.

In narrow channels keep to the right of the middle of the channel.

When approaching or passing any type of craft, reduce speed so that the wakes of the craft will not endanger either craft.

Slow Speed

Maintain slow speed in harbors or near swimming areas. KEEP A-WAY FROM SWIMMING AREAS. Why? Because the most dangerous and most foolish practice in any lake is to mix swimming and motor boating. Swimming and motor boating. Swimmers less always come out the loser in any battle with a high-speed propeller. Last year, in a lake similar to Grenada, two girls got their legs chewed off, and only barely escaped with their lives, when a smart-aleck motor boat operator cut in too close to where the girls were swimming. It isn't always the motor boat operator's fault, however. Sometimes swimmers thoughtlessly swim up into the motor boat lanes and increase their chances of getting hurt. The best rule is: Keep to your own playground and don't ever try to mix your legs with a boat propeller.

Any person who shall operate any motorboat, sailboat, or any vessel in a reckless or negligent manner so as to endanger the life, limb, or property of any person shall be subject to forfeiture of all boating permits.

Distress Signals

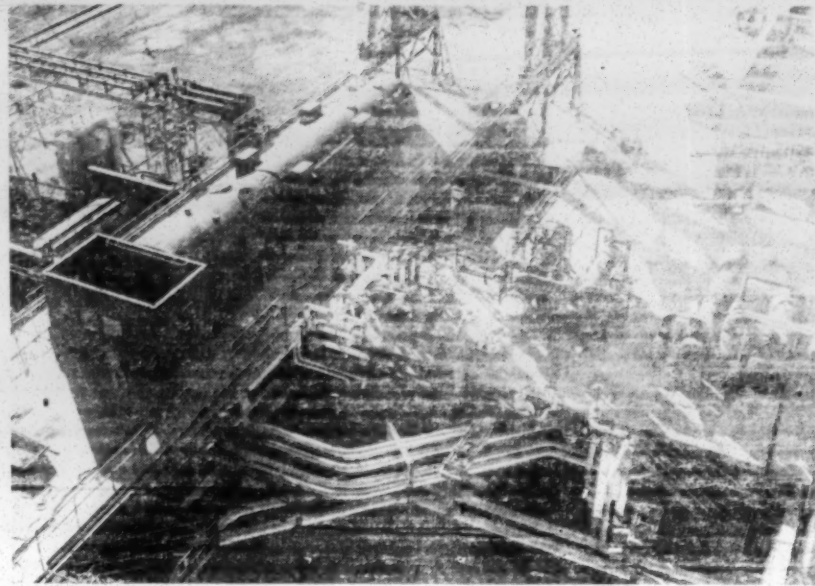

Three quickly repeated calls (audible or visual) repeated at regular intervals is a distress signal. Conserve your energy, use a whistle; flash a light; display a fire or smudge; wave something three times quickly and repeat it regularly. Anyone is morally obligated to rescue the person in distress.

or if he is incompetent to do so, to notify operators, employees, or other persons.

The distress signal, like the SOS at sea, is never to be used except (Continued to Page 6)

New Generating Station Nearly Doubles Electric Power For Western Mississippi

Final tests of No. 1 Turbine, upper left, at Mississippi Power & Light Company's new Delta Steam Electric Generating station were completed recently, making available another 105,000 kilowatts of electric energy for the economic development of Mississippi. With tests already completed on the plant's other turbine, Delta Steam is now capable of producing 210,000 kilowatts. Since the company's other generating plants, Rex Brown at Jackson and Natchez Steam Electric Station are already capable of generating 230,000 KW, the company can now supply nearly twice the amount of electric energy used by its 150,000 electric customers.

Army Opens Doors For Direct Enlistment in Arms, Services

The Department of the Army has announced that direct enlistments can now be made for the Arms and Services. There will be a limitation on the number of enlistments for Service troops and open quotas on Combat Arms, including the Corps of Engineers.

A directive announcing this policy has been received by Sergeant Jack Rainwater of the local US Army and US Air Force Recruiting Office. Sgt. Rainwater stated that this is the first time direct enlistments for all branches of the Army have been open since 1948 and means that qualified person enlisting in the Regular Army for three years or more may now select their Arm or Service which to serve in.

Interested persons are urged to contact Sgt. Rainwater for further details.

Dog Vaccination Clinics Through The County

A schedule will soon be published which will show the itinerary of a vaccination team whose purpose it will be to see that ALL dogs in the county will be properly vaccinated against rabies, then tagged with official tags.

The itinerary will be so arranged that no dog-owner will have to lead his dog very far.

The cost of vaccination and the tag will be $1.50 per dog. This is in accordance with information issued by Dr. R. A. Clanton, Grenada County Health Officer, who is acting under authority of the State Public Health Office.

A dog faces two alternatives: be vaccinated and tagged - or die.

SPECIAL PRE-RELEASE ENGAGEMENT

It's true...

The first Congress in 1789 acted to encourage brewing in the new nation as an aid to moderation. James Madison, later our fourth president, urged an import tariff to "induce the manufacture of beer to take deep root in every state in the Union."

Brewing and the medical arts entered the field of exact science almost hand-in-hand. An early work of the famous scientist Louis Pasteur was his "Studies in Beer" of 1876. Modern brewing - as well as great steps in medical science - developed from his discoveries.

Mississippi's rural road program is helped by beer because the excise tax yields $4 million of the $5 million set aside each year for construction.

that beer carries a higher tax load in Mississippi than it does in any other state in the nation. Largely through growing, public acceptance of legally regulated beer as the beverage of moderation - beer has become the fifth largest taxpayer in the Magnolia State.
